Re: Anti-Bullying Week 13.11.2023 - 17.11.2023

Dear Parents/Carers,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to inform you about the national Anti-Bullying Week and what we are doing here at Hailey Hall to celebrate this. As you are aware we have high behaviour expectations of our pupils, and we are proud that School is a safe and stimulating environment for our pupils. We are proud of our anti-bullying culture and will continue to celebrate this, always supporting pupils where necessary.

Throughout the week, we are committed to celebrating our safe and inclusive environment for all our students. Following on from our anti-bullying assembly, form tutors will be engaging in meaningful discussions and activities focused on anti-bullying, during which each class will create a personal anti-bullying pledge. We believe that empowering our students with a proactive approach can contribute significantly to a positive school culture.

To further integrate the anti-bullying message into our curriculum, subject teachers will incorporate related activities and discussions into lessons. This ensures that the importance of kindness, respect, and empathy is emphasised across different aspects of our students' learning experiences.

We appreciate your ongoing support in fostering a nurturing environment for our students. Together, we can make a significant impact and reinforce the values that are essential for a positive and respectful learning community. I would encourage conversations around this topic at home with your children.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding Anti-Bullying Week activities, please do not hesitate to contact me. Where possible, I will always endeavour to help.

Yours sincerely,

Mr S. Yanmaz
